Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 (a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 3662

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-9, 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brown or Polivka et al or Greenspan et al.

Brown teaches an apparatus and method for generating signals that can be used for accurately determining position including a beacon signal generator 61 for generating a first signal that includes correction data, and a diplexer 60 coupled to the beacon signal generator and adapted to be coupled to a radio signal transmitter 57 that generates a second signal, the diplexer adapted to be coupled to an antenna 53 for transmitting the first signal and the second signal.

Brown further teaches generating (col 4, lines 61+) correction data, the correction data adapted to enable properly equipped position determination systems to accurately determine position, and modulating (col 4, lines 61+) the correction data to a designated frequency so as to produce a first signal.

Polivka et al teach an apparatus and method for generating signals that can be used for accurately determining position including generating 207 correction data, the correction data adapted to enable properly equipped position determination systems to accurately determine position, and modulating 216 the correction data to a designated frequency so as to produce a first signal, generating 204-N second signal at a radio station, coupling (fig. 2A) the first signal and the second signal to a diplexer, diplexing 225 the first signal and the second signal, and coupling (fig. 2A) the diplexing first signal and the diplexed second signal to the antenna of the radio station such that the diplexed first signal and the diplexed second signal are transmitted from the antenna.

Greenspan et al teach an apparatus and method for generating signals that can be used for accurately determining position including generating 64 correction data, the correction data adapted to enable properly equipped position determination systems to accurately determine position, and modulating 68 the correction data to a designated frequency so as to produce a first signal, generating 70; 40 second signal at a radio station, coupling (fig. 2) the first signal and the second signal to a diplexer, diplexing 43 the first signal and the second signal, and coupling (fig. 2) the diplexing first signal and the diplexed second signal to the antenna of the radio station such that the diplexed first signal and the diplexed second signal are transmitted from the antenna.

3. Claims 10-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. Claims 16-26 are allowed.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Dao L. Phan whose telephone number is (703)306-4167.
